Mutual Respect and the Tolerance of those with different Faiths and Beliefs	Respect is a fundamental school value, around which pivots much of the work of the school. We pay explicit attention to this as part of our RE, PHSE, and SMSC curriculum. Respect is a school value that is discussed deeply, starting with self-respect and covering respect for family, friends, and other groups; the world and its people; and the environment. Learning Walks for behaviour and behaviour for learning School Values	Children can articulate why respect is important; how they show respect to others and how they feel about it for themselves. Children's behaviour demonstrates their good understanding of this value in action. Children are able to talk about the different faiths and cultures they learn about, ask questions and show tolerance and respect for others of different faiths and religions
Democracy	The children at Springwood Heath Primary see democracy borne out in a whole variety of ways and see this as being an essential component of successful team working. Democracy is a school value that children meet when discussing respect and fairness.	The establishment of a new School Council each year models the democratic process. RE planning and work books. Learning Walks for behaviour and behaviour for learning School Values	Children are able to work cooperatively in pairs and groups as well as in whole class situations. They understand about turn taking and respecting the views of others. Children in KS2 in particular are able to use the language of respect.
Rule of Law	The children at Springwood Heath Primary are familiar with this concept through the philosophy that infuses the entire work of the school. They are familiar with the concept through the discussion of values and, in RE lessons, the idea that different religions have guiding principles. Children are encouraged to debate and discuss laws/rules and their application. Children are familiar with the local police who visit to talk to them informally. Individual Liberty	Our Values based discussions and acts of worship begin with discussion about the self, e.g. self – respect and self-worth in relation to each individual value so that every child understands that they are important in their own right. The philosophy of our teaching and learning places emphasis on the right to have our own thoughts and evidence based views. Children are strongly encouraged to develop independence in learning and to think for themselves.	Children are able to show independence in learning and to think for themselves.	Children understand about the importance of accepting responsibility and of their right to be heard in school. They are consulted on many aspects of school life and demonstrate independence of thought and action.
